* The aggregate opening balance under each Province differs largely from the closing balance shown in last year's Account. The difference in each case is due principally to the exclusion from the Deposit Account of the balances of Provincial Services and Incorporated Local Funds and to some extent to the correction of the balances under several detailed heads marked off with asterisk to secure their agreement with the Books.

* These balances differ from the closing balances of last year's account by £65,034 and £10,777, respectively, for corrections since made. The difference under Bengal is owing to the non inclusion in the Account of 1881-82 of the Capital Account transactions of the Calcutta Port Commissioners. That under Madras is due to the late adjustment of the cost of a steamer to debit of the Port Fund.
